FIRST CLASS MEAT.

AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY IN SOUTHWEST BERKELEY.

Six Large Slaughter Houses Constantly in Operation to Furnish the Demand.

There are thousands of people living within the limits of Berkeley who are not aware that on the bay just below West Berkeley there are situated six large slaughter houses of the most approved style, built with every convenience for the proper and sanitary slaughter of cattle, sheep and hogs, with large cooling rooms in which the meat is hung until all the animal heat is out of the carcass.

This is done by natural means, by the cool breezes that blow in directly off of the ocean, not by refrigerating, whereby the heat is frozen with the animal heat still in it.

The first of these large establishments is owned by Grayson, Owen & Co., and is an immense establishment, in which nothing but beeves are slaughtered. At the present time business is dull, owing to the large number of people that are absent from San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley, but even now this company slaughters 3000 beeves per month. This amount will be greatly increased after the 15th of September.

Next in line is the slaughter house of Hayes & Co., in which, like the first one, nothing but beeves are slaughtered. This firm is also killing at the present time about 3000 head of stock per month.

Next in line is the establishment of N. M. Slater, where sheep, calves and hogs are despatched, in order that the human palate may be tickled.

At the present time this firm is killing about 3500 head of sheep per month, 400 head of calves, and 400 head of hogs. When this firm is doing its regular business it kills 5000 sheep per month.

James Hall is next in line and like Mr. Slater, he slaughters only sheep and calves. His trade while increasing all the time, is not as large as that of his neighbor, as he kills only about 1000 sheep per month and about 300 calves.

John Stuart has his establishment next the one just mentioned and he slaughters nothing but sheep and lambs, and with the present trade manages to kill about 1800 head per month.

Pete Lanslot, whose establishment is a branch of Lux & Miller, has a large establishment in which he kills sheep, calves and hogs to the number of about 3000 head per month.

It will be seen by the above figures that an enormous business is done at the stockyards which yields a great deal of employment for a large number of men all of whom receive good wages. There are stockmen, herders, sheepmen, butchers, drivers, hostlers, blacksmiths, horseshoers, knife grinders, in fact a small army of workmen, the larger part of which own their own homes in the neighborhood. They are always good pay and are a very desirable class of customers to have.

As the GAZETTE is the only local paper of this county that circulates at the Stockyards and among the families of those employed there and of those who live in that neighborhood, business men who have goods for sale should not neglect to have their advertisements in these columns.

That in Livermore they believe in a circus and that as one has been advertised to appear there next week the school trustees have ordered the schools closed on that day so that the teachers and scholars can attend. Those trustees were evidently boys themselves at some time in their lives.

Was Hurt.

Miss Desmond, a young lady from San Francisco, was visiting the Paschold residence on Sixth street yesterday, and when evening came she made her preparations for returning to her home in San Francisco. Mr. Paschold drove her to the station, and upon her arrival there she started to get out, and while in the act of doing so the horse started, catching her skirts in the wheel and throwing her head-first to the ground. She was dragged some steps before the horse was stopped.

As the young lady was hurt, it was not deemed advisable for her to return home, so she was taken back to the Paschold residence and cared for.

It could not be learned whether the young lady was badly hurt, because the family seemed to fear publicity or notoriety.

Passenger Ferry.

A proposition will come before the West Berkeley Progressive Club tomorrow evening in relation to the establishment of a passenger ferry from West Berkeley to San Francisco. A practical man will lay his views upon the subject before the club. He will give facts in relation to the expense of maintenance and receipts which will probably put a new light upon what everybody believes to be true without it having been practically demonstrated.

Real Estate Transfers.

M. L. Wurtz et al. (by W. S. Harlow, commissioner) to John Schuchlot 1, subdivisions of lots 1 to 4, Peralta Park.

Jessie C. McGeine of Pueblo, Col., is in the city on a visit to Clyde Abbott.

The funeral of the late Emma T. Bennett took place this afternoon and was largely attended.

A gentlemen from San Francisco was in town on Saturday last looking for a suitable place for a bicycle factory.

Myles & Berkley, well known carriage, house and sign painters, whose place of business is on Dalton street, have an advertisement in this issue.

Justice James continued the garbage case this morning until Saturday, August 31, at 10 o'clock a. m. It will probably then be determined whether Oakland can make Berkeley a swill sluice or not.

Miss Mabel Shaw of Ashby avenue, who has been summering in the Santa Cruz mountains for the past two months, has returned home feeling splendid after her outing, which was a most enjoyable one.

A gentleman from San Francisco engaged a bicycle of Henry on San Pablo avenue Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock, promising to return at 12 o'clock the same day. As he did not show up parties went to look for him. About 3 o'clock Frank Teague found the man and wheel badly dilapidated. The man was taken to a hospital in San Francisco and the bicycle was placed in the hospital at West Berkeley.

The phantasma given by the society people of Oakland for the benefit of charity, was not a success financially. The receipts were $600. Out of this John Sherman got $300; the rent and music amounted to $235, with the printing bills and other incidentals yet to be heard from. During the same time that this entertainment was going on for charity, the Wallace circus was asking for a little charity out at Fortieth and Grove streets, and in the same number of performances they took in $14,000 which they carried away with them before the break of day. Had Oakland done as other cities do, charge the circus $1000 for each performance, it would have been quickly paid and the city of Oakland would have had $4000 in its treasury to go to street work and other funds.

NOT TO BE REMOVED.

COLONEL GRAHAM SAYS THE INSCRIPTION

On the Soldier's Monument Must Remain—Expresses Himself as if he Were a Czar or a Cleveland.

Colonel William M. Graham of the regular army received a few days ago a set of resolutions forwarded by M. J. Ferguson setting forth the sentiments of the mass meeting held in Metropolitan Hall on August 17th. The resolutions asked that the inscription on the monument at the Presidio over the graves of the soldiers who met death during the railroad strike of last summer at Sacramento be removed. The wards particularly objected to are "murdered by strikers." To this letter and resolutions the following reply has been sent:

Headquarters Fifth U. S. Artillery, Presidio, San Francisco, Cal. August 23, 1895.

M. J. Ferguson, Chairman, 670 Twentieth St., San Francisco, Cal.—Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st, inst., transmitting to me a copy of resolutions reported adopted at a meeting held at Metropolitan Hall on Saturday, the 17th inst. These resolutions demand of me the immediate removal of the inscription "Murdered by Strikers," placed on a monument erected last winter at the National Cemetery at this post to soldiers who had belonged to my regiment, who lost their lives in the execution of their duty.

I am a competent judge of how these soldiers met their deaths, and the words "Murdered by Strikers" exactly and justly express my judgment on that point.

For this reason I respectfully decline to comply with the treasonable demands of men who have publicly put themselves outside of the law and of the respect of honest, law-abiding citizens by adopting resolutions of sympathy with public enemies and condoning the crime of murder. I am, sir, very respectfully your obedient servant,

WM. M. GRAHAM, Colonel Fifth Artillery, Brevet Brigadier-General, U. S. A.

Sunday is a very unproductive day in Berkeley for the newspaper man, so far as news items are concerned.

That J. M. Breen, the Lorin postmaster, will have to explain to Judge James why he disturbed the peace and dignity of the people of the State of California as well as that of his wife, on Wednesday morning next.

That a splendid program was rendered at the concert given in the North Berkeley Congregational Church on Friday evening last and that it was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience.

Don't borrow the GAZETTE, subscribe for it, it is only 25 cents a month delivered by carriers.

GAZETTELETS.

Miss Bernice Kelly has returned from a pleasant visit with Misses Olla and Esther Pettus in San Francisco.

Miss Mary McDonald, of Catherine street, has returned from San Jose, where she spent several months with her sister.

There were a number of bicycle tires ruined yesterday in Berkeley. We could not learn that the accidents were other than natural, and as such were unavoidable.

The Freshmen of the University will be given a reception tomorrow evening by the Christian Endeavor Societies of Berkeley, at the Methodist church, corner Allston way and Kittredge street.

It will not take a great deal of effort on the part of the people of Berkeley to get the Wilmerding school if the people will just put their shoulders to the wheel.

The item published in the GAZETTE of Saturday evening to the effect that Dr. H. N. Rowell had gone to Niles Canyon for a two weeks outing was incorrect, as the doctor has not gone and does not intend to go, his business at home being too urgent for him to take a vacation this season.

The printers of the Silurian were evidently having some trouble yesterday as they were indulging in considerable loud and vulgar language just as ladies and children were passing along the street on their way to church.

Miss Mabel Holmes of Oakland poses as the champion female bicyclist of Alameda county, which may be correct. She is doing some great practicing, however, to beat the record of Miss Lizzie Brittain of San Francisco, who rode against a heavy wind 6½ miles in 23 minutes.

The readers of the GAZETTE will be glad to know that Mr. May of the Humane Society, has found a nice home for Albert Stoneberg of Peralta Park. The little fellow had to be left alone a great deal and was fast becoming a bad boy and was the cause of a great deal of trouble to his parents. In his new home he will be kindly treated and trained in right ways.

J. J. Owens the founder of the San Jose Mercury, who has passed over the great divide, is now coming back and doing slate writing for spiritual mediums in Oakland according to reports in the Oakland papers. The writer was well acquainted with Mr. Owens during his life and does not believe that he is now flitting around through space doing slate writing for a class of people whom he would not associate with in life.

There is a movement on foot to have Telegraph avenue from the University to Alcatraz avenue sewered and macadamized. From there to the charter line of Oakland the Board of Supervisors will take up the work, while Oakland has signified its willingness to repair the avenue within its limits. If this is done there will be hundreds of people come to Berkeley every Saturday and Sunday who now go to Haywards and San Leandro.

Mary E. Bromstead is a young and pretty woman who until recently resided with her husband, an honest, hardworking blacksmith, at the corner of San Pablo avenue and Thirty-eighth street. Since that time she has cared more for the smiles of other men than her lawful spouse, and after running a numerous lot of bills for her husband to pay she quit him and has not since returned to her cozy little home. Mr. Bromstead has got tired of this kind of business and has advertised to the world that he will no longer be responsible for debts of her contracting.

IS NOT LEGAL.

RAISING THE SALARY OF THE LORIN SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

Cannot Lower or Raise a Teacher's Salary During the Term for Which He Is Elected.

Berkeley school teachers are discussing quietly among themselves, the recent action of the Board of Education in advancing the salary of the principal of the Lorin school and ignoring the claims of other teachers of greater experience and longer service in the departments. They are not disposed to question the propriety of raising Mr. Congdon's compensation, but regard it as unjust not to have placed the others on the same footing. To many of them it appears like a discrimination against the female principals and therefore a breach of the law forbidding it. They also claim that the Board is without authority to change the salary of a teacher during the term for which he is elected. In general, Berkeley teachers are paid smaller salaries than those in many other places in the State, and this is made possible because of the advantages of being at the doors of the University, which are valued very highly by most of them. Berkeley teachers are worked harder also, as the classes are much larger. At present in East Berkeley, the average enrollment in all the classes is 48 1-2, a number considered much too great for one teacher to handle successfully.

He Flagged the Train.

There have been many stories told about Casey's ranch, where he keeps goats and sells their milk, but the most of them are of the fake. However, Casey takes them all in good part, and seems to enjoy them. Whether it is for him or against him it makes no difference.

Now comes one of actual occurrence. Although it was a close call the milk man escaped somewhat frightened, but all right in the end. It happened this way, as it was narrated to a GAZETTE representative:

One day last week while one of Casey's goats was attempting to forage on ground that she had lived on all through the summer (she was of the coming woman order) and became dissatisfied with the old way of things, and longed for pastures anew. While hesitating she espied a man's red flannel shirt, floating in the breeze, and the determination to be somewhere about it quickly came with such strength that the jump she gave caused the rope which held her to break. Very quickly she hied away to the object of her desire and in a few minutes her love for the very article itself caused it to disappear down her pretty throat.

Hardly had she accomplished this gastronomic feat when the owner appeared upon the ground and in a moment discovered his loss. He ran up to the animal with determination in his eye and a rock in his hand determined to kill Nanny on the spot. He changed his mind, however, and took her to the narrow guage track and tied her head close to the rail so that the approaching train would cut it off. Man proposes but not always successfully.

Casey had missed his goat and started out to hunt for it. He soon found out the situation and asked the man what he was going to do. The man said he would kill any goat that would eat his flannel and he would cut four dollars that the engine would cut her head off when it came along.

Casey had faith that the goat would pull back when the engine came along and took the bet. Soon they heard the whistle of the locomotive and standing back awaited its approach. As it began to get nearer the goat also heard the noise and raising her head she saw the danger, gave one spasmodic motion and threw up the red flannel shirt. In so doing she flagged the train and her life was saved. Casey has $4 ahead.

It Is Said

That a new force of printers were wanted at the Advocate office this morning.

That the students are making great preparations for the rush that is to take place on Friday.

That Crocker & Co. are making war on the Co-operative store.

That this is as it should be, as this store which competes with every business man in town, pays neither rent nor license, and is simply a fat snap in a business way.

That Court Ocean View A. O. F. will give a stag party at Sisterna Hall on Thursday evening next.

That Casey has potatoes for table use, fine and large, for $1 per sack, or for chicken or hog feed for 25 cents per sack delivered. They are all freshly dug as they are ordered.

That Edison's definition of electricity is a "mysterious fluid about which nothing is known."

That this is an old definition of water in Kentucky, but it does not follow that water and electricity is identical.

That Archie Nelson, who has been packing fruit at Vacaville, has returned to Berkeley.

That the skipper of the Mare Island is about to build him a new residence in West Berkeley.

That opposition is the life of trade and that Crocker & Co. are making it pretty warm for the University Co-operative store.

That Dr. Rowell will make it warm for persons or newspapers hereafter who try to send him off on a vacation when he is not going.

That Saturday next will be University day at the Mechanics' Fair, and the college yell will be heard in all parts of the building.

That a gentleman well known in West Berkeley, has been made co-respondent in a divorce suit filed in Vacaville.

That Marshal Lloyd intends arresting all bicycle riders who are on the streets at night with their wheels without a lantern. See his notice in another column.

That it is a two to one bet that bonds will not carry in Oakland on Saturday next.

That the GAZETTE was the only paper in the county to give a complete list of the new Freshman class.

That the lawn fete to be given by the ladies of the Congregational church on the grounds of Mrs. F. K. Shattuck, promises to be one of the most original ever held in Berkeley.

That the Vallejo Chronicle states that in a recent murder case tried in that city Reese Clark of Berkeley made a speech lasting all the forenoon which was nothing but abuse of witnesses.

That the anniversary ball of the South Berkeley Improvement Association on Friday evening last was one that will long be remembered by those who took part in the same.

That on next Friday evening the campus will resound with "Zipla! Zipla! boom, ha, ha, U. C. '99, rah, rah, rah!"

That Mayor Davie is now like the fifth wheel to a coach. He has talked so much that no political party will affiliate with him, and he has to go it alone.

That it will be impossible for the town to take hold of the Holmes Library for at least two years.

THE WILMERDING SCHOOL.

The consensus of opinion among the majority of the people of this State is that the Wilmerding Industrial School should be located in Berkeley. The complaint that the Board of Regents have made is that the $400,000 bequeathed by Mr. Wilmerding is not enough if the Board has to buy a site out of the legacy.

The State has got all the land it needs and more too right here in Berkeley, that was given to the State with the understanding that the University of California should be located for all time in Berkeley. It was not intended at the time the University was founded that it should be scattered all over Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco. The Medical College and the Hastings Law College are located in San Francisco. It is probably all right to have the Medical College in San Francisco, for there it is close to all the large hospitals. The Law College, however, should be located right here in Berkeley and if it was it would turn out better lawyers and better men. As it is now the college is situated in the heart of the city and is surrounded by all kinds of vice. The young students all board in the city, mostly renting furnished room and eating in restaurants. A large majority of them spend their evenings at the theatres, billiard rooms or halls. This would be obviated if the college was situated in Berkeley, where the young men would always be under the eyes of the Professors. This same thing may be said of the Wilmerding School. If it is located in Oakland or San Francisco it will be surrounded by the same influences that the Law College is. If located in Berkeley the students are surrounded by homes of culture and the influences are for good and not for bad. Again, the young men who are learning trades in the school, if their parents reside in San Francisco, will have the benefit of a healthy ride across the bay twice every day. It is not only a matter of justice but a matter of right that the Wilmerding school should be located in Berkeley where it belongs, and where Mr. Wilmerding intended it should be. Had he wanted it in San Francisco or Oakland he would have so stated in his will.

HOME PRODUCTION.

It was but a few weeks ago that some one in the East forwarded a proposition to the Manufacturer's and Producers' Association, in relation to the establishment of a bicycle factory on the Pacific Coast, California being more particularly indicated. The information conveyed was limited and its principal item of inducement was that some 200 or 300 men would be employed. The M. and P. Association was at that time just getting underway and the proposition was sent in its crude state all over California.

The consequence was that every town in the State, situated near water transportation, immediately made a hustling among their citizens and endeavored to wake them up to the idea that in a short time a bona fide factory employing some 250 men would be located, in their midst, if a certain amount of land and money should be given them. There was a great deal of hurrying about to get subscriptions sufficient to entice the foreigners to settle in certain portions of the State. Berkeley made a spasmodic attempt to retain the phantom mechanical factory and of course the bird was killed in its conception. Happily for the town nothing has come out of the proposition except verbiage.

This matter is given as an illustration of what people may do upon the mere say so of some foreigner. They jump at very far off conclusions and think but little of anything of the kind occurring near home.

It is the GAZETTE's intention to give its influence to the home market and home productions. There is nothing in the manufacturing business done elsewhere that cannot be done in this State. There are plenty of people in this State who are willing to take hold of the manufacturing business and make a fight for its success if they are only conceded its patronage from home consumers, letting alone the fact of having certain advantages given them both in land and money.

Is there a single institution in the State of California of a private nature that has been particularly fostered by subscriptions from private parties? We cannot call to mind a single instance. When a man or a number of men make up their minds to go into business in California they never go around to get the public to subscribe for their plant. They stake themselves and sink or swim in the passing through.

Of late years the habit of getting money endorsements for the starting of private manufacturing business has made considerable headway in the Eastern States. Many corporations have sold themselves to towns and cities from the fact that they could make more money for the time in this then in the legitimate business which they proposed to carry on. Many towns and cities have been swindled by what ultimately turned out to be of a false character.

No sooner had the bicycle scheme been foisted upon the community of California and met with an unexpected successful reply, than a dozen other layouts in the same line were thrown before the public. Like the bicycle racket, which was purely imaginative in the construction, the others are of the same quality.

Now there is a gentleman in Berkeley who has patented a bicycle and is at present engaged in their manufacture in a small way. These machines are different from any other patented article which has heretofore been manufactured. They can be made cheaper than the imported article and everything appertaining to the manufacture will be kept right within our town boundaries. The gentleman referred to is of limited means, but he has never asked for public aid, which could be given him just as well as to any outside party.

In addition he has an invention which he has received patent papers for that will knock out all of the recent bicycle ordinances. In other words he makes a pneumatic tire that cannot be injured by riding over a road full of tacks or anything of that description.

Will the town aid this home enterprise in a small way and soon build up a factory that will surpass anything outsiders have proposed in their wildest imaginations.

WILLIAM SELOVER, a gentleman who makes his appearance in San Francisco about every two years, with some grand scheme of manufacturing, is again in San Francisco. This time he has a scheme for the erection of large smelting plants in San Francisco. This is the same gentleman who about five years ago was going to build a colossal pork packing establishment at West Berkeley. He secured a site at Hardwick station and had the foundations laid for several buildings, but this failed to bring any money from the capitalists and he was compelled to abandon the work and the foundations still remain as a monument to either his cheek or his folly.

Dr. J. H. McLean who has for a quarter of a century presided over the First Congregational Church of Oakland, preached his farewell sermon yesterday forenoon. He will hereafter preach in the Plymouth Congregational Church of East Oakland.

MUST KNOW THE STREAM.

The Information a Western River Pilot Must Carry in His Head.

At the season of the year when the river excursion business is at its height and hundreds of boats are carrying thousands of people to and fro along the entire length of the Ohio river from Pittsburg to Cairo many persons who ordinarily never give the subject a thought are impressed with the wonderful way in which navigation on our beautiful stream is carried on. The first thing noticed generally is the accuracy with which the pilot handles the boat, avoiding the bars, which are near the surface of the water in the summer, going from one side of the river to the other, and finally, without a jar, landing them all safely at their destination. When the excursion business is over, these same men assume similar positions on packets and towboats, carrying hundreds of tons of freight and thousands of bushels of coal on every trip with the same accuracy with which they handled the excursion steamers during the summer.

A large number of the pilots running out of Cincinnati know the river from here to New Orleans, others from here to Memphis, and others still to points up the river as far as Pittsburg. "Know the river." This phrase means much. For instance, a man running from here to New Orleans must be able to take charge of the wheel of his boat at any hour of the day or night at any point on the river and on any stage of water. He must be able to tell at a glance exactly where the boat is at any point on this long stretch of 1,518 miles. He must know every bend and chute, and by day the different points by which to steer, such as houses, barns, trees, fences and even haystacks; by night every light placed by the government in conspicuous places as well as the hills and their shape. He must know exactly how long to hold the boat to one light or object before changing to another. When the Mississippi river is reached, a new feature presents itself in the shape of the constantly changing channel. To work here requires more skill and greater judgment probably than all the rest of the difficulties combined. Going down a boat may go on one side of the river. Coming back it doesn't go with in two miles of that place. When these things are appreciated—and they are only a few of the things a pilot must know—then it is that the pilot gets credit for what he does.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.
